Dientiful. A great marsh land near the station was selected as the landing place. The problem of holding the steat airship down while the gasoline tasks and hile the hydrogen was pumped into ter gas bag—625 feet in length—was the biggest problem that haval officials had to deal with. More than 800 men were assembled at Mineola, N. Y., for the purpose of bringing the R-34 to earth.

Many Await Word.

All day long every wireless station from the northern coast of Newfoundland to the mouth of the Hudson was manned by eager listeners and watchers, who strained eye and ear for sight or signal of the traveler of the skies, but only once did she emerge long enough from the mists to be recognized. This glimpse was caught from the little Nova Scottan town of Parrsboro, thirty-five miles west of Halifax, the town at which the Handley-Page, in flight from Harbor Grace, N. F., to Mincola, N. Y., made a forced landing early this morning. The mammoth airship passed directly over the lighthouse of the port at 2.15 this afternoon. Many Await Word.

When first sighted she appeared to be down by the head, but before she had passed out of sight had apparently righted herself and was proceeding on an even keel. Sailor watchers estimated that she was making about twenty-five knots an hour. timated that she was making about twenty-five knots an hour.

The first intimation of possible trouble was contained in a wireless message intercepted at 11 A. M., and aldressed to the British Admiralty, in which Major Scott, commander of the dirigible, reported that his fuel was getting low. Three previous messages, giving position, had concluded with a cheery "All well"

Ask for Destroyers.

Five minutes after the messare to the admiralty. Commander Zachary Landsdowne, U.S. N. invited to take part in the flight as a courtesy to the American government, sent a query to the War Department on behalf of Major Scott, asking if a destroyer could proceed to the Bay of Findy if required. In less than three hours and the masons gained courage until destroyers were coming, and two hours latter a more urgent appeal was flashed to the Navy Department and asked that the destroyers meet the superior that Pharaoh, on his way to the temple of Amos, would pass the Dearaoh finding a riot before the Dearaoh finding a riot before asked for.

The crowds of spectators attracted by the possibility of witnessing the landing of the flyers, held their ground in spite of the broiling hot sun from early morning until 1 o'clock is the afternoon, when the announcement was made that the airship had not passed beyond the tip of Nova Scotia and could not arrive until temorrow. Asserts That It Happened Thirty-Three Centuries Ago.

BY EARL C. REEVEN.

LONDON, July 5.—The diligent historian who discovered the age of the flu germ by delving back into the dim reaches of history has been followed by a learned gentleman, who tells us how they "struck" in 1460 B. C.

And it happened thirty-three centuries ago that masons were building this temple of Mut. in Thebes. These men were paid the first day of each month, in commodities, and great clamor arose against the scribes, who short-changed the masons and enriched themselves by the robbery.

On the fifteenth day of a certain month the provisions dwindled and families were humsry. On the sixteenth the men stopped work and they temained dile on the seventeenth and the eighteenth. On the nineteenth the men endeavored to leave the work-yard but found the guard had been doubled. At Sunrise of the twentieth day they surrounded the superints dent, who spent many anxious moments and could calm them not.

"By Amen," they said, "by the sovered modern fashito before the house of the Governor of Thebes, finding the doors barred by a frightened attendant.

The loudly expressed their thanks, praising the Governor for his generosity, shouting:

"Thou are our father and we are thy sons. Thou art the old man's staff, the nurse of the children, the helper of the distressed."

And so the strike ended, as many have since, and Phahach came and found everything lovely with his good and faithful servant, the Governor of Thebes.

May Land Sunday.

The announcement which was made by Lieutenant-Colonel Lucas, the British army representative at Hoosevelt Field, stated that a message had been received from Major Scott, commander of R-34, saying that he expected to arrive Sunday morning. Later it became known that a message had been sent by Lieutenant-Commander Lansdowne, the American observer on hoard the dirigible, to the naval commandant at Newport asking if destroyers could be sent to the southern end of the Bay of Fundy to tow the airship "if required?"

"We are not worrying about the R-34, said Lieutenant-Colonel Lucas tonight. A Rose, a Kiss and You Girl of My Heart When You See Another Sweetie Hanging Around Adele Rowland 18560 10 Mammy o' Mine Adele Rowland Adele Rowland is a new Victor artist with two first-class numbers to offer. She has had great success in vaudeville and has more coming to her through the Victor. "When You See Another Sweetis Harging Around" is a lover's quarrel; and—hear what she says through the music in "Mammy e' Mine." Lullaby Blues (In the Evening) American Quartet 18553 10 When the Bees Make Honey Irving and Jack Kaufman "Lullaby Phues" is a perfect picture of the quiet of evening 'way down in Virginia, where an old black Manuny is putting her baby to sloep. "When the Bees Make Honey (Down in Sunny Alabam') leads naturally enough to a honeymoon. "Jazz Baby" is sung to real Jazz music, and is in Marion Harris' very best style. Kiss Mé Again Victor Herbert's Orchesira 45165 10 1.00 Humoresque Victor Herbert's Orchestra One of Herbert's own best waltzes from "Mile. Modiste" with the ever-popular "Humoresque" by Drořák make an unusually happy combination, and the orchestral effect is unusually rich and satisfying. Rainbow Division March Arthur Pryor's Bandl 18559 10 85 Spirit of Independence March Conway's Band The music lives up to the spirit suggested by the titles of these two numbers. "Rainbow Division March" has a certain element of atermosa that gots with the swing and snap of the American Army. "Spirit of Independence" is lighter and gayer in style, and both marches gain through the affective contrast. Oh, Susie, Behave Medley One-Step (Banjo, Sazophone, Piano) Van Eps Trio 18556 Monte Cristo, Jr.—Medley Fox Trot Van Eps Trio "Oh, Susis, Behave" includes also "I'm Going to Settle Down Outside of London Town," and "Rip Van Winkle Slept With One Eye Open." The Modley Fox Trot is made up of "Monte Cristo," and "Flutter On By, My Broadway Butterfly." In both those dances the twittering banje and melodious saxophone make it hard to stand still, and harder to stop once you have started. Out of the East—Fox Trot Joseph C. The Educational Department presents two more of its series of American country dances.

These dances are issued particularly so that children in the playgrounds and school and adults at home might become better Americans through hearing and dancing to the rhythms that inspired the patriots of the past. RED SEAL RECORDS Sorter Miss You (Clay Smith) Frances Alda | 64780 10 1.00 The longing of separation is never so deeply folt as when expressed in words of the simplest set to a haunting molody. Not a word in the tender poem but is a word in common use, in the accent of the remacular, and the melody has the same simplicity and beauty. Crises develop and pass, new ideas spring from the old ones, and there is a wealth of incident and interest. The Quilting Party (Seeing Nellie Home)

Many will exclaim with delight at the revival of an old American song that dates back almost to the Civil War. Come are the quilting parties of old, but the charm of "Seeing Nellie Home" (to give the song another title by which it is also known), is as fragrant as ever. A male quartet adds to the richness of the hermony. It is the last hour of make-believe for Werther and Charlotte, the hour before Werther's passionate outburst makes further friendship impossible. He sings to her Ossian's Song from an old manuscript of his that they have discovered. When You Look in the Heart of a Rose (Gillespie-Methven) John McCormack What sworter message can a rose bear in its heart than the secret whispered to it by the giver—a secret inviolable to all save the one for whom it is intended? Souvenir (Drdla) Efrem Zimbalist |64813 10 1.00 "Souverir"—a memory—but of what? It is a riddle at which many like to guess, for this melody is one of the most popular of modern violin pieces. The melody opens clear and bright as a happy thought, works up into a noble passion, fading away into softness as the original theme returns—reminiscently as a secret softly whispered to oneself.
